ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

The ice has gone out of the Missisquoi river and no damage has been reported. The water has been lower than usual for this period of the year.

Miss M. Jeanette Rogers of Burlington, flutist with "The Birth of a Nation" company, has finished her season's engagement and returned home.

License commissioners appointed for Vergennes are the same who held the office last year—Wallace C. Foote, William J. Strong and Frank W. Warner.

H. C. Woodhouse, a farmer of West Windsor, has decided to sell his stock and farming tools and sails for England this week to join the army. He is a veteran of the Boer war.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bates, former residents of Watford, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary at their home in Chippewa Falls, Wis., March 27. Mr. Bates is 86 years old and Mrs. Bates 82. Both are in good health.

The marriage of Rev. W. R. Hamlin, pastor of the Hyde Park Congregational church, to Miss Ada Chandler of Amherst, Mass., took place in the latter city Wednesday. They will return to Hyde Park in about two weeks.

Vergennes is planning a celebration for July 4 in honor of the 150th anniversary of the settlement of the city and the coming of Donald McIntosh. The proceeds of the entertainment will be used for building a walk to the railroad station.

The story comes from Fairfield of a woodchuck which was seen perched on the limb of an elm tree some 12 or 15 feet from the ground last Saturday. Someone gently poked it off and allowed it to depart after being there all morning.

New Haven's correspondent for the Middlebury Register has in her possession an arithmetic printed in London in 1792 by George Fisher, accountant. The book is bound in leather and the letter "H" is substituted for "K" throughout.

H. G. and F. E. Barber of Brattleboro have sold Mary G. and James H. Hooker to recover $5,000 on a note, claimed to have been given by the Hookers at Schenectady, N. Y., July 25, 1910, to Charles D. Whitaker, and made over by him to the Barber brothers.

Operatives of the spinning room in the Davis woolen mill at Northfield Falls last week presented a demand for higher wages, with a $2 per day minimum. A compromise was effected which calls for an increase in wages, but not for the amount sought.

The house and barn on the George Hallway farm in Stannard was destroyed by fire last Friday evening. It started in the barn and had gained such headway when discovered that much of the stock was burned, including two horses, 12 cows, three yearlings, 100 hens, two sheep and two pigs. The house caught fire from the blazing barn and was burned down, with part of its contents.

A complaint has been made to the Bennington health officer that certain barber shops in the village are not observing the state regulations as regards the sanitary conditions of their shops. There has been an unusual number of cases of slight infection and there are several cases of skin diseases which are believed to be due to the barber shop conditions.

Rev. William Laughton, pastor of the Baptist church in Hinesburg for the past three years, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Vergennes Baptist church and will assume his duties there April 16. For 20 years Mr. Laughton was a missionary in central China and Mrs. Laughton was with him for ten years, until she was compelled to flee with her children for safety during the Boxer uprising. After her departure, Mr. Laughton remained as interpreter for the British government.

Three deaths occurred in Greensboro on Monday and Tuesday of last week. On the former day occurred the deaths of Andrew Hill, at the age of 87 years, and W. W. Goss, for many years prominent in the town. Mr. Goss was 77 years old and had been a member of the Congregational church for many years. He was town clerk for 20 years and represented his town in the legislature of 1878. For many years he was justice of the peace. On March 28, Mrs. Samuel Morse died, and Mr. Morse died last Monday.

The Hillegas Appointedment.

The people of this state did not favor the adoption of the Carnegie Educational report. They repudiated it. Is this news to anyone? We do not suppose it can be. The people of the state elected their representatives and sent them to Montpelier with the issue at hand, and with the understanding that they would disavow the Carnegie foundation report, which recommended the consolidation of the schools and the elimination of the high schools in the smaller towns. The people have not forgotten it. If Vermonters ever resented or repudiated anything it was that report.

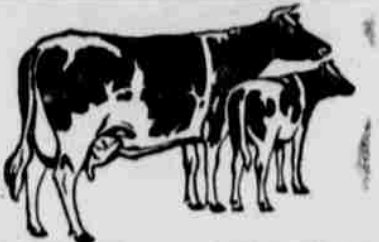

The Honorable Mason S. Stone resigned, as we understand it, because the state of Vermont refused the Carnegie report.

Now the board of education, composed in part by the commission which recommended the adoption of that report, has appointed as commission of education, the man who, it is generally understood, wrote that part of the Carnegie report which refers to our common schools and which the people of the state found so objectionable.

The ability of Mr. Hillegas as an educator is not questioned, but if Mr. Stone could not continue his services because of his adherence to the Carnegie foundation principle how can the man who wrote it and whose method was refused by Vermonters, prove acceptable to the state? This is a question many are asking—Northfield News.

Big Holstein Auction

85 Head of Registered and High Grade Holstein Cattle

As we have purchased the Milham stock from the Farnham or Stevens farm, in East Montpelier, on which the entire buildings recently burned, 13 have not sufficient room to tie the stock have decided to sell same at public auction to the highest bidder on the premises known as the Fred Gal farm in Barre Town, about one mile from Barre City, near the Cobble Hill creamery, on

TUESDAY, APRIL 11

1916, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon. This stock has been gotten together at a great expense by H. M. Farnham and is considered the best herd in Washington county, being especially well marked, mostly all white.

FIFTY COWS

All young; about 15 now fresh, 20 to freshen soon, and 15 fall cows; 10 2-year-old heifers, 5 to freshen within the next 30 days, mostly white, very fancy, 13 yearlings, 10 extra fine calves. All this stock are large size, many of the cows having an enviable reputation as milk and butter producers. Included in this number is Prince Idaho, Van Beers, No. 107163, bred by the Vermont state hospital, Waterbury, Vt., sire Prince Van Beers of Edgeland, No. 54009, dam Idaho Princess No. 111293. Mercedes Wm De Koi No. 102815, bred by H. W. Varney, Vergennes, Vt., sire Burk Dekol Mercedes, No. 38753, dam Ethel Wit 2nd No. 46734; 1 yearling heifer and 1 heifer calf, both eligible to registry; also 3 registered Jersey cows, from the Eastman Hopkins herd of Cabot; 1 grade bull.

This stock will particularly appeal to any farmer wanting the better grade of stock, as it is not the kind usually offered and would not be on the market at this time on account of the recent fire at the Farnham farm. With the exception of three cows, not one in this herd is over 8 years old. The grades run from 3/4 to 15/16 pure bred Holstein.

Come and look this stock over, as you seldom have an opportunity to see such splendid stock together.

Bear in mind that turning out time is only a few weeks distant. Remember the date, Tuesday, April 11, 1916, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon. Lunch at noon. At the Fred Gal farm in Barre Town.
